

Authors' Presentation

Camelia Bof (Hreban) is a teacher at Samuil Isopescu Technical College of Suceava. At present, she is a PhD student at the Ștefan cel Mare University of Suceava, Faculty of Letters and Communication Sciences with research on The Initiatory Journey in the Romanian Fairy Tale. The Path to Becoming being coordinated by professor Claudia Costin.

cameliahreban@yahoo.com

Victoria Bulicanu, Assoc. Prof., PhD, Dean of the Faculty of Journalism and Communication Sciences (FJCS), Moldova State University (MSU), designated member of the Academy of Science of Moldova, scientific researcher at the Institute of Political, Legal and Sociological Sciences within MSU. Author of more than 70 scientific materials in national and international publications.

victoria.bulicanu@usm.md

Maria Cernat is president of the Institute for Media Research and Human Rights and currently Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Communication Sciences and International Relations, Department of Communication and Public Relations, Titu Maiorescu University, Bucharest. During her academic career she has taught Critical Media Studies, Discourse Analysis, Introduction to Communication Sciences, Ethics and Professional Deontology, Ethics and Corporate Responsibility. She is also the author of numerous articles indexed in international databases such as ISI, EBSCO, ProQuest, etc. As an academic she has coordinated many undergraduate and master's dissertations on the image of women in advertising, gendered commercial communication, gender stereotypes in public discourse.

macernat@gmail.com

Horia Cintează is affiliated with the National University of Science and Technology Politehnica Bucharest. He holds a Master's degree in Geopolitics and a PhD in Hermeneutics. His research interests focus on communication phenomena involving social influence and control, explored through both overt and subtle mechanisms.

Hc.reglaipsihocomp@gmail.com

Gabriela-Cătălina Danciu is a Teaching Assistant at the Faculty of Journalism and Communication Studies, University of Bucharest. She holds a PhD in Sociology from the Faculty of Sociology and Social Work at the University of Bucharest. Her most recent publications include: Survival Strategies of the Gusti School 1939-1948 (Tritonic, 2022); A Perspective on Justifying the Ukraine–Russia War: Elements of Propaganda (International Journal of Social and Educational Innovation – IJSEIro, 2023); From Post-Communist Advertising to Social Media Influencers: Landmarks in Communication Content (Meridian Critic, 2022). Her research interests include: the Gusti School, survival and adaptation strategies, strategic communication, the history of advertising, political communication, social change, crisis management, and political marketing.

gabriela.danciu@fjsc.ro

Ilinca Fiodorov, teaching assistant at the Faculty of Journalism and Communication Sciences at Moldova State University (USM) and a PhD candidate in Journalism and Communication at the Doctoral School of Social Sciences, Moldova State University (USM).

ilincafiodorovv@gmail.com

Ioan Mateiciuc (b. 1986, Siret, Suceava) holds a PhD in the philosophy of the image from Alexandru Ioan Cuza University of Iași / George Enescu National University of Arts Iași. He is an essayist and poet, as well as a cultural manager (major projects including Folkever, Suceava Symphony Orchestra, DizART), and the author of articles and studies on literature and cinematic art. Among his works are the volume Phenomenology of Intermediate Worlds. Transitions and Portals in Virtual Space, published by Alexandru Ioan Cuza University of Iași Publishing House, 2024 (co-edited with George Bondor), Le labyrinthe de Pan: mécanismes de défense dans le conte de fées cinématographique in International Journal on Humanistic Ideology, Vol. XIII, No. 1/2023, Forms of Refuge of Happiness: Phenomenological Incursions into Miloš Forman's Films in the collective volume Rethinking Modernity. Transitions and Challenges (ed. Oana Șerban), Ethics International Press Ltd, UK, 2023, and The Utopian City: A Boundary of Filmic Reality in Hermeneia – Journal of Hermeneutics, Art Theory and Criticism, No. 27/2021.

mateiciucioan@yahoo.com

Horia Mihalcescu is an Associate Lecturer (PhD) at the Faculty of Business Administration in Foreign Languages (FABIZ), Bucharest University of Economic Studies, where he has been teaching Business Models and Scientific Research with AI since 2025. He is a partner in startups specializing in data research and Big Data Analytics. His research focuses on digital business models, digital transformation, and the application of artificial intelligence in scientific research. He has publications in areas such as Big Data, digitalization, and marketing, including the volume Digital Romania.

hm_71@hotmail.com

Raluca-Andreea Nechifor is PhD student in English Philology at the Vasile Alecsandri University of Bacău, Romania. She is currently employed as an assistant professor at the Faculty of Letters of the same institution. She is interested in language of art critique, register analysis, varieties of English, speech acts, discursive techniques.

raluca.nechifor17@gmail.com

Luminița Reveica Țaran is PhD in Philology (The Poetics of the Image in Bucovinian Folk Creation), from the Alexandru Ioan Cuza University of Iași. Since 2003, tenured teacher of Romanian Language and Literature at the Teodor Ștefanelli School No. 4, Câmpulung Moldovenesc.

taranluminita@yahoo.com

Georgeta Stepanov, professor hab., Faculty of Journalism and Communication Sciences, vice rector for students' and didactic activities and senior scientific researcher at the Institute of Political, Legal and Sociological Sciences, Moldova State University (MSU). Author of over 190 scientific, scientific-didactic and methodological works published in journals and collections of works edited in the country and abroad, including 5 monographs, 2 monographic studies, 3 textbooks, 3 course materials, 9 methodological guides, etc. Member of the projects: HORIZON-WIDERA-2025-01-ACCESS-01 (WIDENING AI RESEARCH AND INNOVATION FOR EXCELLENCE IN THE EASTERN PARTNERSHIP) Project ID 101311127 – 2026-present; National Security of the Republic of Moldova in the Context of Accession to the European Union: Legal, Political and Sociological Approaches (010501) – 2025-present; Culture and politics in the context of changes in political regimes: from Romanian Bessarabia to the Republic of Moldova (010402) – 2024; Academic university heritage from the Moldavian SSR: investigation and valorization of good practices (20.80009.1606.11) – 2020-2023. Mobility and continuing education internships: University of Malaga, Spain, 2025; University of Seville, Spain, 2025; National University of Malé, Maldives, 2025; University of Leipzig, Germany, 2023; South-West University "Neofit Rilski", Blagoevgrad, Bulgaria, 2023; "Apollonia" University of Iași, Romania, 2026, 2022; University of Salamanca, Spain, 2021; Protestant University of Passau, Germany, 2013, 2014; University of Missouri, Columbia, USA, 2004.

georgeta.stepanov@usm.md

Otilia Ungureanu completed her doctoral studies at the Ștefan cel Mare University of Suceava with a thesis called Alexandru Macedonski. Critical and identitarian (re)configurations. She participated in numerous conferences such as Mihai Eminescu National Colloquy (A. I. Cuza University of Iași) or "Critical Discourse and linguistic variation" (Ștefan cel Mare University of Suceava). Articles (selective): (Re)construction of identity. Between the memory of the past and the memory of the 'future', Representations of private life in Macedonskian art. The dialectic of taste – discursiv and identitary exercises, Whims of Idealism. Bovaric Complex in Macedonski's prose, Mannerist Projections in Macedonski's Work. Multiforms of Love, Patul lui Procust. Catalysts of the echo in time. She is currently an Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Letters and Communication Sciences, Ștefan cel Mare University of Suceava.

otilia.ungureanu@usm.ro

Zoltan Zakota is an electrical and environmental engineer who currently teaches computer science and electrical engineering subjects at the University of Debrecen, Hungary, and PhD candidate at the Ștefan cel Mare University of Suceava, Romania. He also gained significant experience in high school teaching in both countries. His main areas of interest are the information and knowledge-based society and the impact of ICT on society, economy, environment and education, with special regard to Artificial Intelligence.

zzakota@gmail.com

Anton Zazuleac is a PhD candidate in Philology at the Ștefan cel Mare University of Suceava, Romania. His research lies at the intersection of translation studies, linguistics, audiovisual media, and cultural studies, with a particular focus on multimodal discourse analysis in animated films. He has participated in various national and international conferences and has published several scholarly articles on audiovisual translation, multimodal discourse analysis, image–text relations, (non)verbal discourse, and the impact of translation in contexts involving refugee children. He is also a member of the research project CREATMOD – Creativity and Multimodality in Translated Children's Books in Romania and the Republic of Moldova after 1990 (<https://flsc.usv.ro/creatmod/>).

anton.zazuleac@usm.ro